STOCK MARKET CONDITIONS ARE VERY OPTIMISTIC

BELIEVED THAT CHANGE IN AFFAIRS OF THE COUNTRY IS OUT OF QUESTION

Increased interest continues to be manifested by New Yorkers in the stock markets, according to the Mining Age, which has the following to say of conditions in that city:

Speculative and stock market conditions still continue to be surrounded with an extremely optimistic halo. The impression exists generally by this time that the general business of the country has reached such a footing that an immediate change is considered quite out of the ordinary, and while the advances in the stock market either on the stock exchange or on the curb are still confined almost entirely to specialties, there is no question but what sentiment seems to have reached a stage where it can readily be considered as being bullet-proof against any temporary spasms of disquietude that may be jerked up for temporary effect. There is a noticeable tendency on the part of the investing public to participate more fully in a speculation of the copper shares, and while the volume of transactions recorded from day to day in this class of securities is still below maximum possibilities, they still indicate a determined trend and increase of interest.

In discussing the troubles facing mining companies in Mexico the Age reports the following:

There is good cause for the owners of Mexican mines to get worried about their titles. All the mines in the northern zone controlled by the rebels have been placed in jeopardy by the absence of well defined rules to govern the payments of taxes. The federals have maintained that the taxes would be paid sooner or later to the government anyhow, and the rebels have insisted on payment to them. The result has been that many owners, not wishing to pay twice, have not paid at all, preferring to wait for things to settle down and then take their chances on reinstating titles forfeited for non-payment. It would be a mighty neighborly thing to do if the Mexican government would issue a proclamation extending titles to mines in all the states that have been under rebel control, or in some manner assuring the owners of mining properties or prospects that they are to be protected. There are many properties in course of development or financing that will be seriously damaged in their chances of profitable operation unless there can be very soon an assurance from the central government that the titles will be protected until payments can be made through the usual officials in the usual way.

GEO. BANOVICH HAS GOOD CAUSE TO BE JOYOUS

DAUGHTER ARRIVES AT HOME
OF POPULAR MERCHANT LAST EVENING

Without a doubt, George Banovich, the popular merchant, is the happiest man in Tonopah today. His joy was occasioned by the arrival of a daughter at the Banovich home last night, and as a result the proud father is today handing out merchandise and groceries in an absent minded manner.

Dr. O'Neil, the attending physician, reports mother and child as progressing nicely, while the father is in the hands of friends.

HERMAN ZADIG SAYS OUTLOOK IS VERY PROMISING

SAN FRANCISCO BROKER TO PLACE STOCK OF NEW COM-PANY ON THE MARKET

Herman Zadig, the San Francisco broker and a heavy stockholder in the North Star, Rescue Eula and other local properties, who arrived in Tonopah yesterday, declared that the outlook in this camp at the present time is brighter than ever before in its history and that the interest of the investors in the district, already phenomenal, is steadily increasing.

Mr. Zadig's visit to Tonopah at this time is in connection with the placing of some of the treasury stock of the newly organized Tonopah Bonanza Mining company. Mr. Zadig will go to Goldfield tomorrow for a brief stay on business connected with the same company. Speaking of his latest venture, Mr. Zadig said: "It naturally makes me feel good when, after many years of waiting and trying to convince mining men of the possibilities of the western section of the district, men like Kirchen and Pittman go in and buy a property like the Little Tonopah at a big price. It proves that they must feel satisfied that the ore zone extends to the west. I believe and have always believed that the greatest ore bodies yet to be opened up in Tonopah will be found out west and don't hesitate to put myself on record with the opinion that the ground of the Tonopah Bonanza will be among the mines developed in that section."

"I am glad to find that North Star has such a fine showing on the 1250 level and it would not surprise me to see it amongst the great producing mines of Tonopah before very long."

George Bruce, haggageman of the Tonopah & Goldfield railroad, after spending the last two weeks visiting in San Francisco, has returned to Tonopah. Mrs. Bruce continued on to Kiko where she will visit relatives for a few weeks before returning to this camp and joining her husband.
